Laurie Noto-Estep, doing business as AngelMommie's Creations, moved with her husband, Tom, and their mini-doodle, Bella, to the mountains of Virginia from North Carolina. Laurie has always loved anything related to needle and thread, so it must definitely be in her "genes" as her biological mother was a very gifted seamstress in the 50's and 60's who left when Laurie was very young. She taught herself how to sew, now for decades - making both wedding and flower-girl dresses, slip-covers for furniture, curtains, woman's and children's clothing, etc. Laurie has been an avid cross-stitcher since her early teens. These days you'll probably find some of her cross-stitch pillows or framed cross-stitch pieces for sale in the Gallery. Laurie has also been a decorative painter for about 25 years. The paintbrush did not come as easy to Laurie as needle and thread, so she took many years of decorative painting classes. She loves painting flowers and outdoor scenes most of all. Laurie is also responsible for Rockfish Gifts & Gallery Social Media and Promotion. She shares lots of the beautiful artwork and gifts that are for sale on the Rockfish Gifts & Gallery Facebook page.
